

Division 24 Midwinter Meeting
February 26-28, 2010 - Schedule

FRIDAY – FEBRUARY 26

3pm	Situating Transformation: The Place of Conceptual History in Social Praxis. Chairs: Lisa Osbeck & Kareen Malone	Making Good: Moving Toward a Values-Realizing Psychology Bert H. Hodges
3:30	Participants: Louis Boynton, Nonah Elliston, Laura Garcia, Jonathan Gibson, Michelle Granden, Nur B. Ibaoglu Vaughn, John Roberts, Melinda Schott-Ceccacci, Christina Wright	Self-regulated Learning Stephen Vassallo
4		Awe, Inspiration, and Transcendence: The Importance of Including Elevating Experience in the Assessment of Well-Being Veronika Huta The Theistic Psychology of the Self-critic and the Indwelling Spirit in Research and Psychotherapy Richard York
5	Discussion Papers: Emotion in Psychology Romantic Love and Personal Growth: Incompatible Partners? Katherine S. Hawks Tri-phenomenology: A New Method for Eliciting Experience” John W. Carter & Lindsey Doyle “The ‘Core’ Theory of Emotion” John W. Carter	Discussion Papers: History & Methods How Methodological Strengths of Psychology Can Help Advance the History and Philosophy of Science Aaron Baker & Noah Baker What Makes a Hypothetical Construct “Hypothetical”?: Tracing the Origins and Uses of the ‘Hypothetical Construct’ Concept in Psychological Science Kathleen L. Slaney & Nathalie Lovasz
6:00	Dinner Break
7:30	President’s Welcome
7:30	Transforming Suffering Frank C. Richardson & James M. Nelson
8:00	Introduction to a Eudaimonic Ontology Blaine Fowers
8:30	Invited Address Freud, Nietzsche and Levinas: Toward a Phenomenological Understanding of Narrative Self-constitution and Narrative-based therapy Travis Anderson Chair: Brent Slife

SATURDAY - FEBRUARY 27

8am	Conversation Session on Personhood Identity as a Process or Processed Identity? Benjamin Zabinski Martin Dege Steven Gravatt Kate Sheese The Metaphysics of Personhood Mark H. Bickhard	Neurophenomenology Conversation Session Neurophenomenology: The Mind and the Brain Susan Gordon Neurophenomenology as Neuro-Ontology in Meditation Research. Olga Louchakova Neuroethics and the Extended Mind Christopher H. Ramey
9:30	Relationality Conversation Session: An Ontologically Relational Model of Human Experience: How and Why This is Important in Psychological Research and Practice. Edwin L Hersch A Relational Revolution in Psychology: What Would this Change? Marissa Barnes	Psychopathology Conversation Session Considering the Machiavellian's Place in the Psychopath's Space Robert J Smith Our Minds, Dead Bodies, our Selves Tony Jack Jerry Piven Sara Waller
10:15	Discussion Papers: Feminism & Ontology Gendered Ontologies Emily Lonas and Katie Nichols Is the Family Ontological? Tiffani Stevenson and Brent Melling
11	The Future of JTPP, Publishing Research Results, and Improving Education in Theoretical and Philosophical Psychology. Thomas Teo & Jeff Sugarman
12	-LUNCH BREAK-
1:30	Invited Address: Why Empathy Is Relevant to Morality Michael Slote Chair: Blaine Fowers
2:30	The Environmental Crisis: A Good "Climate Change" for Theoretical Psychology? Brent Melling, Joseph Ostenson, Brady Wiggins, Dennis Wendt	Conversation Session on the Lacanian Subject Chair/Facilitator: Angelica Tratter Participant: Karen Malone Discussants: Jeff Sugarman Michael Tissaw
3:30	Conversation Session on Agency, Morality, and Religion Chinese Interpretations of Cause, Will, & Free Will Martin Morf The Theological Roots of the Psychological and Natural Philosophic	Conversation Session on Levinas and the Other Before Ontology: Ethical Metaphysics as a Foundation for Meaning Samuel Downs The Other on Facebook: Focus Group Research in a Levinasian Framework

	Discourse About Free Will and Agency William Meehan A Discussion of Guiding Principles Behind the Atheistic Rationale for the Inclusion of Religious Education of Children Noah Baker and Aaron Baker How Should Moral Identity Best Be Conceptualized and Studied? Sam A. Hardy	Gilbert Garza Brittany Landrum Thinking the Other, Human and Non-Human Mark Freeman
5:00	Symposium: Visions for the Field of Theoretical and Philosophical Psychology Chair: Michael A. Westerman Toward an Ontological Psychology Mark Bickhard Restoring Roads Less Traveled: A Vision for Theoretical Psychology Suzanne Kirschner Fragmentation in Theoretical Psychology Frank Richardson Psychology's "Borderline Personality Disorder:" The Discipline's Self-destruction and the Limitations of Self-Reflection Thomas Teo Philosophy and Psychology, Where the Twain Might Meet: A Vision of Active Engagement between Theoretical/Philosophical Psychology and other Parts of the Discipline at Large Michael A. Westerman
6:30	SOCIAL

SUNDAY – FEBRUARY 28

8:30	Toward a Theistic Program of Psychological Research Jeffrey Reber and Brent Slife
9:15	Re-evaluating Science: Finding a Proper Role for Emotions and Ethical Convictions in Science Practice Alan C. Tjeltveit and Lisa M. Osbeck Social Theory as Practice Robert Bishop Frank Richardson
10:00	Invited Address: Becoming a Person: Hermeneutic Phenomenology's Contribution Charles Guignon Chair: Frank Richardson
11:00	The Question of Transcendence Mark Freeman
11:30 – 1:00	Putting the Notion of Situated Agency to Work: The Theory of Interpersonal Defense Michael A. Westerman Discussants: Charles Guignon Brent Slife

